How to Disposition

1. Select Disposition Candidate

- Right click on the candidate you want to disposition.
  - Select Disposition Candidate.

A screenshot of the "Hiring Manager Review" screen. At the top, it shows "Hiring Manager Review: 3" and counts for Qualify: 1, Offer: 0, Hire: 0, and Disposition: 1. Below this is a table with columns for Candidate, Name, Vets Preference, and Other Preference. The first row has candidates 105849 (John Smith) and 90578 (Jane Johnson). A context menu is open over the first row, listing options: Open, Save, Update, Create Document, Move To Qualifying, Disposition Candidate, On Board, and Move To Offer.

OR

- Click the Actions arrow on the top right of the Requisitions Dashboard.

- Select Disposition Candidate.

A screenshot of the Requisitions Dashboard. It shows a table with columns for Disposition and Source. The first row has "Online" under both. An actions arrow icon is located at the top right of the table. A context menu is open over the "Online" entry, listing: Open, Save, Update, Create Document, Move To Qualifying, and Disposition Candidate.

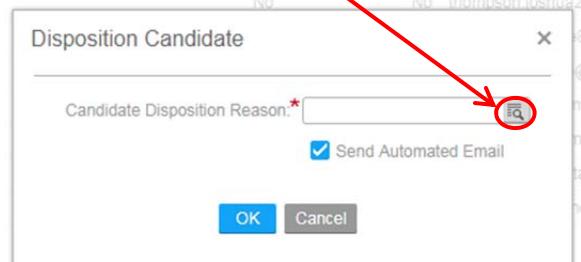

If you have multiple candidates with the same disposition, you can disposition them all at one time.

- Highlight each candidate by holding down the CTRL key as you click on each candidate.
- Right-click and select Disposition Candidate.

A screenshot of the "Hiring Manager Review" screen. It shows a table with three rows: 105849 (John Smith), 90578 (Jane Johnson), and 50279 (Mary Larson). The last two rows are highlighted with blue selection boxes. A context menu is open over the third row, listing: Create Document, Move To Qualifying, and Disposition Candidate.

- Select the magnifying glass for a drop down list of disposition types.

A screenshot of the "Disposition Candidate" dialog box. It has fields for "Candidate Disposition Reason:" and "Send Automated Email" (which is unchecked). Buttons for "OK" and "Cancel" are at the bottom.

- Select the appropriate disposition from the list. (See list below.)

- Make sure the Send Automated Email box is checked. (For more information see Correspondence.)

- The candidate will receive the standard email from BHR, regardless of the disposition type.

- Click OK.

Types of Dispositions

You can disposition candidates throughout the selection process.

- If you know you are not going to interview the candidate, you can disposition at any time.
- Do not disposition a candidate immediately after he or she has submitted a job application or immediately following a job interview.

Best Practice: Wait at least 24 hours before you disposition a candidate.

The dispositions you will use are:

- AW - applicant withdrew
- D2I - applicant declined second interview
- DA - applicant declined appointment
- DI - applicant declined interview
- FA - applicant failed to appear for interview
- FC - failed to comply with requirements
- NA - interviewed, not appointed
- NS - applicant not selected for interview
- UC - unable to contact the applicant

Do not use any dispositions that have a description that starts with BHR Use Only.

Correspondence

If the Notes are blank, the position is not preference eligible.

Moving Candidates:

- Once you have determined you want to interview a candidate, you may move them to Qualify to separate them from other candidates.
  - Right click on the candidate and select Move to Qualifying.
- Ready to make an offer?
  - Move that candidate or candidates to Offer by right clicking and then choosing Move to Offer.
    - Then follow your agency's hiring approval process and contact your Human Resource Manager.
